

Robert C. C. Brown Jr.
Arkansas Historically Black College Scholarship

Robert C. C. Brown, Jr., a graduate in the Class of 1950 at Scipio A. Jones High School in North Little Rock, Arkansas, lived a life of service. He served his country during the Korean and Gulf Wars which influenced on how he lived his life. He was hard working and a giving individual. This devotion extended to his wife (Ivory), children (Rowena Brown Parker, Lillie Wilson (Gary) and Dwayne Brown (Connie)) and those he adopted as family to include Scipio A. Jones High School. Also, he obtained his Bachelor's Degree at Baptist College in Little Rock, Arkansas after graduating from high school.

Mr. Brown was so devoted to his high school that he was instrumental in forming a committee to sponsor a scholarship for high school graduates related to Scipio A. Jones High School. Several high school graduates have been blessed with money to assist in their tuition and other needs when starting college due to this scholarship. Mr. Brown transitioned from this world on May 13, 2020 and in his honor, a scholarship has been created, named Robert C. C. Brown, Jr. Arkansas Historically Black College Scholarship.
